

The MELBOURNE SCHOOL OF CONTINENTAL PHILOSOPHY Summer School 2010

Week 1: January 25 - 29

11am - 1pm Deleuze's Leibniz: *The Fold

Sean Bowden

2pm - 4pm Foucault's Archeology of Knowledge

Jon Roffe

Week 2: February 1 - 5

11am - 1pm Nietzsche's Legacy: Existentialism,
Post-Structuralism, Transhumanism

Ashley Woodward

2pm - 4pm Phenomenology Meets the Neurosciences

Maurita Harney

Week 3: February 8 - 12

11am - 1pm The Problem of Socrates: Plato, Xenophon and the Limits of Philosophy

Bryan Cooke

2pm - 4pm History of Philosophy I: The Presocratics

James Garrett

Week 4: February 15 - 19

11am - 1pm Jacques Lacan and Leo Strauss: A Symposium on the Ancient and the Modern

Matthew Sharpe

2pm - 4pm Emmanuel Levinas: Philosophy of Radical Alterity

Andrea Leon-Monterro

Full course details, recommended readings and enrolment are available at: www.mscp.org.au
Each course consists of 5x2 hour seminars, from Monday to Friday. A course reader is provided on the first day of each course.

The Melbourne School of Continental Philosophy is an independent teaching and research group made up of graduate students and academics who share the goal of providing continental philosophy wherever it is needed. The MSCP runs philosophy workshops and teaches annual summer and winter schools. Join our mailing list on the website for updates on MSCP activities.

Venue:

The University of Melbourne

Course Fees

Courses	Unwaged	Waged
1	$70	$110
2	$120	$180
3	$160	$240
4	$200	$300
5	$240	$360
6+	$260	$390

www.mscp.org.au